Annual Food Donation

Members of the Audubon Lions Club gathered Tuesday to make their annual donation to the food pantry at New Opportunities. Kelli Jensen, coordinator for New Opportunities in Audubon, directed the shoppers and when all was said and done, five carts were filled with essentials like pasta, soup, vegetables, juice and beans. Ground beef and hot dogs were also donated this year. The Lions Club chipped in $300 to purchase the goods. Audubon Foods store owner, Mike Fassino, matched that amount, giving $600 in food to the needy.
