

Concern for community

From left, Midland Power employees Colleen Radebaugh, Angie Sabus, Kim Wright, Colleen Newell, and Kara Boyle pose with New Opportunities' Teresa Lansman and some of the supplies donated by Midland Power and its employees. Additional non-pictured employees also made school supply donations.

True to the cooperative principle of Concern for Community, numerous Midland Power employees donated cash or supplies for the 2016-2017 school year. Employee efforts were combined with a matching donation by the cooperative to contribute more than $500 worth of supplies to the local school district through a donation drive coordinated by New Opportunities.

Thanks to all of the employees that contributed to this program.